

20th Biennial New Delhi World Book Fair (NDWBF)

25th February to 4 March 2012 Pragati Maidan, New Delhi –INDIA
NATIONAL BOOK TRUST, INDIA

The biennial New Delhi World Book Fair (NDWBF) is entering the 40th year of its 'foundation' in 2012. The NDWBF, first organized in 1972 is scheduled to have its 20th edition from 25 February-04 March 2012 (Hall 1-14) at the sprawling Pragati Maidan, New Delhi.

With a reputation of being the largest and most prestigious publishing event in the Afro-Asian region, the NDWBF has a lot of exciting opportunities to offer to the participants and the visitors. A get-together of the veritable Who's Who of Indian publishing industry with participation from all major publishing houses of the globe, NDWBF is a one stop platform for promoting titles and trade contracts in this part of the world supplemented with literary and publishing conference and programmes.

The last edition of NDWBF spread over an area of 42,000 square metres and held from 30 January-07 February 2010 had more than 1200 exhibitors from India and abroad. This time the Fair is expected to grow even bigger and better and promises to be the perfect occasion to showcase our complex and rich publishing trade.

A copy of the Information Folder with Application Form of 20th NDWBF can be downloaded from the Trust's Website: www.nbtindia.org.in